

Site Open Day, Sunday 30th July 1-4pm

The Open Day is when we celebrate our site and show it off to others. It helps us maintain good relations with the local community, whilst also being our main income generator – paying for things like the skips and free compost.

It is also a chance to meet other plot-holders and invite friends and family to find out about the site. So come along and enjoy children's craft activities, teas, coffees, softs drinks and home baking and produce for sale.

Even if you can't come on the day, you could still consider donating spare produce, jams, chutneys etc. to the Produce Stall or baking something for the Tea Stall. Just leave your contribution in the Cabin before the event.

If you are planning to be around on the day, why not consider give up half an hour to help out? We are looking for volunteers to help set up/put away, or to welcome visitors, serve teas, and man the produce stall during the event. To volunteer, please email Rosy

Autumn Social and Annual General Meeting

This is now planned for the afternoon of Sunday 1st October. Please save the date.

Recipes

If you've come across interesting new ways to prepare and eat what you have grown, why not share the recipe through our website? Just email some text and (if possible) a photo of the end product to Rosy

Corks for compost or mulch

We've had an offer from someone in nearby West Savile Terrace of corks from wine bottles, for crumbling to add to compost or mulch. If you would like to take this donation, please let Rosy know.

Thank you

To everyone who helped with tidying the wildlife pond last Sunday.

Keep up the biodiversity

We've had another report of interesting wildlife activity, this time of the uncommon Comma butterfly. The site seems to be abuzz at the moment, so keep up the biodiversity!
